

Dear Counselor,

The application for the 2019 Triangle Youth Leadership Conference is now open! We are seeking motivated high school students interested in building their leadership and professionalism skills to apply for this unique opportunity. We would appreciate it if you would share the following information with your students and encourage them to apply!

For 10 years, Triangle Youth Leadership Services has hosted an annual conference to educate and motivate high school student from across North Carolina to create relevant, local change. The Triangle Youth Leadership Conference (TYLC) was founded by NCSU Park Scholars on the belief that change begins with passionate leaders and that leadership development at a young age is critical to lifelong success. The conference is designed to amplify student's potential and provide them with concrete skills they can apply in their schools and communities.

- Who: High school students grades 9th-12th
- What: TYLC10
- When: Friday, February 8th – Saturday, February 9th
- Where: North Carolina State University, Raleigh, NC
- How: Apply online! Please see the information below
- Cost: $100

During the conference, participants explore topics of leadership through hands-on workshops, discussions, and projects. Participants will also have the chance to experience NC State's campus firsthand and engage with student leaders and alumni! Highlights of this year's conference include:

- Workshops presented by N.C. State students on tangible skills such as charismatic leadership, design thinking, team communication, effective collaboration and more!
- Guest speakers and panelists, including NC State alumni and representatives from campus organizations such as Engineers without Borders and the Krispy Kreme Challenge.
- A Solutions-Focused Design Challenge where students will work together to create feasible, applicable solutions to real-world problems. At the end of the weekend, students will present their solutions as part of a friendly competition!

It's an experience your students won't soon forget, and it will set the stage for their success in college and beyond! Please encourage your students to learn more and APPLY at triangleleadership.com. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to us at triangleleadershipservices@gmail.com. Also, keep up with TYLS through our Facebook page (Facebook.com/TYLC.NC) and Instagram account (triangleleadershipservice)!

Thanks! Sincerely,

the TYLS Team
